

The following two pages are each sets of four printable note designs. Each little clip-on or sticky note is something you can use to handwrite a message of recognition and appreciation to an employee.

You may print and use an unlimited number of these note pages to use with your own employees, volunteers or others that you have cause to praise or recognize in some way.

You may not sell these or give them away. You may not use them in any way commercially. You may not post them on the web or share them in your newsletters.

The best use of the notes is to print them and use sticky note adhesive or a paper clip to attach them to a work product of the employee you want to praise -- with your own handwritten message added.

If you have some other way you would like to use these or something else you would like to use these for, you can contact me at cclarke@superperformance.com. PSD's are available.

Great Job!

You Nailed It!

Thank You

Great Idea!

What I Appreciate Is...

You Always...

First Rate
Work!

Thanks. This is Just What I Wanted